Big fun while fundraising

This week saw some amazing efforts in Buddy's Big Workout, heart rates increased, fun was had and all in a good cause. The school councilors met with Mandy from the NSPCC to design the big workout. Now completed, the collection boxes are in each classroom so please help us to donate an amount to this good cause so that they may continue to support young people in need. Rabbit class gathered after their workout to share the message - speak out stay safe.

Values News

This term our value is Peace.

Having thought about our own peace and where we find it, with the help of our values leader we have been trying to be peacemakers. We have been exploring ways to bring peace to situations, solutions to resolve conflict and working together peacefully in the first place.

Please remember to join our Facebook page to see even more photos of our fantastic adventures and the gallery and news pages on our website are being updated with photographs.

There is one week left to make your scholastic book orders online.

We are looking forward to the Churt Yuletide Bazaar on Saturday and hope everyone has a fantastic time. It is set to be an amazing event.

Community Board

'The Churt Yuletide Bazaar' is being hosted by two Mums from St Johns, to celebrate the wealth of talent that we have, in and around the local area of Churt. Rebecca Harvey-Browne, who set up her business Dobby & Rose two years ago, lives in the village and creates handwoven lampshades and cushions but also teaches others the skill of weaving. Angie Hedgecock, who lives just out of the village in Beacon Hill, is a very skilled and talented Wildlife portrait artist and is also commissioned to draw pet portraits.

The idea of creating an event started after a discussion, which highlighted how high end artisans and makers can struggle to sell and promote their craft to the community around them. It was then decided that the best way to do this, was to create an event which would showcase not only small business owners within Churt and the surrounds, but also one that would bring the community together to celebrate what we have to offer.

It was decided in the early stages of planning, that all proceeds raised from the event, would be given back to the community; to the School and Village Hall.

On the day of the Bazaar, inside you will find high quality gifts produced by a blacksmith, jewellers, pencil artists, a ceramicist and of course, there will be some Christmas decorations!

In addition, there will be warm food and drink outside, all provided by local businesses.

Not only that, there will also be two pre-bookable workshops; wreath making and for those truly getting into the festive spirit, a cocktail making workshop hosted by the Bel and The Dragon. Nearly every penny that is raised from the Workshops will come back to the school, therefore get together with friends and come and have a fab evening learning a new skill and have fun whilst doing it!

Entertainment will be provided throughout to make it a very special Churt Christmas celebration!

As this is a community event and if you feel you can add something to the Bazaar, please do contact Rebecca or Angie. We are open to any suggestions and would love to hear from you.

We can't wait to see you all there! For more information and to book the pre-bookable workshops, please visit our Facebook page ChurtYuletideBazaar or follow us on Instagram - churtyuletidebazaar
