Take a look at the video I have sent to you. https://youtu.be/HMjElUuWJQc Some very strange things have been happening in my classroom this week while I teach Yellow Bubble. From the video what do you think might have happened? Write down your ideas.	Using your ideas from watching the video can you write a newspaper report about what was found at St John's? You can be as imaginative as you like - there is no right or wrong. You might like to see this dragon story, with fantastic descriptions of different dragons. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=MAAdG102siOU	Can you illustrate your newspaper article with pictures that would make someone interested to read your article? You might want to look at the dragon story again to give you some ideas for pictures.	Can you purple polish your writing? Take a look at this comprehension about dragons and choose your level of challenge. https://www.twinkl.co.uk/resource/year-2-knights-and-dragons-unite-differentiated-reading-comprehension-activity-t-e-2549450	Who would you like to visit us at St Johns and why? Write them a letter asking them to come to St John's and why they should come.

Can you create a collage of a dragon? You can use cut out paper, glitter, stickers, paint, silver foil etc. badger@stjohns-farnham.surrey.sch.uk	What is your talent? Continue to practice your talent this week. Have you discovered anything new that you are really good at? Be proud to be you! 	See Purple Mash for this week's Science work.	Can you think of songs that changes your mood? Which song makes you happy, sad, excited? The song that makes me excited is 'Glory, glory Tottenham Hotspur!' before Tottenham play football!	Can you place an old white sheet or blanket underneath a tree and gently shake it? Record what comes out of the tree. It could be insects or maybe parts of a tree. Write down what you find!
